RAG Database Content

This file contains the records that go into the vector database. It covers four collections: content, visual, compliance and workflow. Brand and product records are not included, because they come from your client. Each record has a metadata line (id, collection, agent, platform, language) followed by a title and the text to embed. One record equals one chunk.

Collection	Prefix	Used by	Contents
content	C-	Content agent	Platform rules, caption frameworks, CTAs, hashtags, calendar, example captions visual	V-	Image agent	Formats, lighting, composition, prompt templates, negative prompts, failure fixes compliance	R-	Reviewer agent	Disclosure, claims, ad policy rules, rubric, bad-to-fixed examples
workflow	W-	Manager agent	Agent roles, task plans, retry rules, hand-off formats

Notes. (1) Platform limits and policy summaries were written from general knowledge and platforms change them often, so confirm figures against the official pages before launch. (2) Records marked SYNTHETIC are written examples that show the pattern; replace or extend them with your client's real posts and metrics. (3) Arabic examples should be checked by a native speaker.

Collection 1: content (Content agent)

Rules and patterns the Content agent retrieves when writing captions.

id: C-001 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: instagram | language: all

Instagram caption and format rules

Caption limit: 2,200 characters. Only the first 125 characters or so show before the "more" cut-off, so the hook and the key message go first. Hashtags: the hard limit is 30, but 3 to 8 relevant tags perform best; place them at the end or in the first comment. Emojis: 1 to 4, used to mark structure, not to replace words. Line breaks are allowed and help readability. Links in captions are not clickable; use "link in bio" or a link sticker in Stories. Best formats: Reels (9:16), carousels (up to 20 slides), single image (4:5).

id: C-002 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: tiktok | language: all

TikTok caption rules

Captions are short and support the video; up to 2,200 characters are allowed but 80 to 150 characters work best. Open with a hook in the first line. Use 3 to 5 hashtags that mix one broad tag, two niche tags and one trend tag. Tone is casual, direct and spoken. Do not copy ad language. Always add a clear single CTA (follow, comment, shop link in bio). Label realistic AI-generated content as the platform requires.

id: C-003 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: linkedin | language: all

LinkedIn post rules

Post limit: 3,000 characters; the first 210 characters or so are visible before "see more". Tone is professional but human. Structure: one-line hook, short paragraphs of one or two sentences, a takeaway, then a question or CTA. Use 0 to 3 hashtags and at most 1 or 2 emojis. Avoid slang. Lead with a result, an insight or a lesson, not with the product name.

id: C-004 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: facebook | language: all

Facebook post rules

Short posts (under 80 words) usually perform best, although the platform allows far more. Conversational tone, a question or an offer, and one link. Use 0 to 3 hashtags. Image posts and short video get the best reach. Always put the offer details (price, dates, conditions) in the text, not only in the image.

id: C-005 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: x | language: all

X (Twitter) post rules

Limit: 280 characters for standard accounts. One idea per post, a strong first word, 0 to 2 hashtags, and one image or a short video. Links count toward the limit. Keep the tone sharp and conversational. Threads are for longer stories: the first post must work alone.

id: C-006 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: all

Caption length guide by goal

Awareness: 60 to 120 characters, one emotion, one image-led idea. Consideration: 150 to 400 characters, with benefits and one proof point. Conversion: 100 to 250 characters, with the offer, the deadline and one explicit CTA. Storytelling or education: 600 to 1,200 characters, with the CTA at the end.

id: C-010 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

Framework: AIDA

Attention (hook line), Interest (a surprising fact or a relevant problem), Desire (benefit and emotion, the product in use), Action (one CTA). Use for launches and promotions. Template: [Hook]. [Why it matters to you]. [What the product does and the result]. [CTA].

id: C-011 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

Framework: PAS

Problem (name a real everyday frustration without insulting or targeting the reader), Agitate (make it concrete in one sentence), Solve (introduce the product as the answer). Compliance note: never name a medical or personal condition of the reader; keep the problem about a situation, not a person.

id: C-012 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

Framework: Before, After, Bridge

Describe the current situation (before), the improved situation (after), and how the product bridges the two. Keep results realistic and avoid guarantees. Template: [Everyday situation]. [Imagine this instead]. [The product is how you get there].

id: C-013 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: instagram,facebook,linkedin | language: en

Framework: storytelling

Short story in four beats: a person, a small problem, the discovery of the product, a light resolution. 3 to 6 sentences. Use sensory words and one specific detail. End with a soft CTA. Only use real customer stories; never invent a testimonial.

id: C-014 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

Framework: social proof

Open with a real number or a real customer sentence taken from the product knowledge base, then connect it to a benefit. If no verified number or review exists, do not use this framework.

id: C-015 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

Hook formulas

Question: "What if your morning took 5 minutes less?" | Number: "3 details that make this bag different." | Contrast: "Looks simple. Feels premium." | Curiosity: "We almost did not launch this color." | Direct benefit: "Fresh all day, no effort." | Seasonal: "Your Ramadan table, ready in minutes." | Command: "Meet your new everyday sneaker." Pick the hook that fits the product and platform; never use clickbait that the post does not pay off.

id: C-020 | collection: content | agent: content | platform: all | language: en

CTA library (English)

Sales: Shop now | Order today | Get yours | Grab the offer before [date]. Traffic: Link in bio | Tap the link | Learn more. Engagement: Tell us in the comments | Tag a friend who needs this | Save this for later | Which color do you prefer? Community: Follow for more | Share with someone who would love this. Use one CTA per post.

id: C-025 | collection: content | agent: content,reviewer | platform: all | language: all

Hashtag usage rules

Mix three levels: 1 broad (e.g. #fashion), 2 to 3 niche (e.g. #summerdress), and 1 brand or campaign tag. Avoid banned or spammy tags and tags unrelated to the post. Do not stuff hashtags into the middle of sentences. Write hashtags in the language of the post; for multilingual audiences add one tag in each language. Refresh trend tags monthly from TikTok Creative Center and Google Trends.

Emoji style rules

Use emojis that match the brand tone. Premium or formal brands: 0 to 1 emoji, never faces. Casual or youth brands: 2 to 4 emojis. Never put an emoji in every sentence. Do not use emojis that carry a double meaning. Place them at the end of a line, not in the middle of a word. Avoid religious emojis in promotional content unless the campaign is specifically religious and the brand uses them.

id: V-020 | collection: visual | agent: image,reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Default negative prompt distorted hands, extra fingers, deformed face, blurry, low resolution, watermark, signature, random text, garbled letters, wrong logo, extra logos, altered product, duplicated product, cropped product, oversaturated, plastic skin, unrealistic proportions, cluttered background, other brand names.

id: V-021 | collection: visual | agent: image,reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Common failures and fixes

Garbled text on packaging: avoid asking the model to write text; overlay text separately or use the original photo as the reference. Changed product color or shape: add "keep product unchanged as in the reference image" and lower creative strength. Wrong or invented logo: negative prompt "other brand names, extra logos" and keep the logo area unchanged. Bad hands: crop hands out of the frame or use a product-only shot. Product too small: state "product fills 60 percent of the frame". Floating product: add "resting on [surface], realistic contact shadow".

id: V-022 | collection: visual | agent: image | platform: all | language: en

Text in images

Prefer no generated text. If text is needed, keep it to 2 to 5 words, high contrast, inside the safe area, and add it as an overlay after generation. Never put prices or legal conditions only in the image; they belong in the caption as well.

id: V-023 | collection: visual | agent: image,manager | platform: all | language: en

Input handling: reference photo quality

If the uploaded product photo is blurry, too dark or heavily cropped, ask the Manager to request a better photo or proceed with a warning. Remove or ignore background clutter, but never invent product features not visible in the photo or stated in the description. Match the generated image to the product description (color, size, quantity).

id: V-024 | collection: visual | agent: image,reviewer | platform: all | language: all

Image output checklist (image agent self-check)

Product present, centered or on a third, true colors, no extra logos, no garbled text, no distorted hands or faces, correct aspect ratio, background fits the campaign mood, no copyrighted characters or celebrity likeness, no watermark.

Collection 3: compliance (Reviewer agent)

Rules, rubric and examples the Reviewer agent retrieves when validating generated posts. Sources: FTC, Meta, TikTok, ASA/CAP, EU rules (summarized).

id: R-001 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

FTC: when a disclosure is required

A disclosure is required when there is a material connection between the poster and the brand: payment, free products, discounts, affiliate commissions, employment or family ties. If a post is promotional content made on behalf of a brand and the relationship is not obvious to the audience, it must say so. Source: FTC Disclosures 101 for Social Media Influencers.

id: R-002 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

FTC: how a disclosure must look

Clear and conspicuous: same language as the post, placed where it is seen (before the "more" cut-off), not buried among hashtags, in plain words such as #ad, Sponsored or Paid partnership. Vague tags such as #sp, #collab, #thanks or #partner alone are not enough. For video or images, the disclosure should also be visible in the content, not only in the caption.

id: R-003 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Claims must be truthful and substantiated

Every objective claim (duration, percentage, ranking, ingredient, certification) must match the product knowledge base. If a claim cannot be matched, mark it UNVERIFIED and send it back to the Content agent. Never approve guarantees, superlatives (best, number one) or comparisons without evidence.

id: R-004 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Testimonials and reviews

Do not invent testimonials, quotes, ratings or user counts. A testimonial must come from a real review stored in the product knowledge base. Fabricated reviews presented as real are a violation. Results shown must be typical, or the post must say they are not.

id: R-005 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: instagram,facebook | language: en

Meta: misleading or false content

Reject false or misleading claims, fake urgency that is not real, deceptive offers, and functions the product does not have. Caption and image must not promise something the product cannot deliver. Source: Meta Advertising Standards.

id: R-006 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: instagram,facebook | language: en

Meta: personal attributes

Do not assert or imply knowledge of the viewer's health, religion, ethnicity, age, finances, sexual orientation or disability. Reject "Struggling with your acne?" or "Are you in debt?". Rewrite neutrally: "Discover our skincare range."

id: R-007 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: instagram,facebook,tiktok | language: en

Health, weight loss and before-and-after

Reject unrealistic health or weight-loss claims, miracle cures, "guaranteed results", dramatic before-and-after images, and content that creates negative body image. Extra attention for supplements, cosmetics, fitness and medical-like products.

id: R-008 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: instagram,facebook,tiktok | language: en

Restricted and prohibited products

Prohibited or restricted: tobacco and vapes, weapons, illegal drugs, adult content, gambling, alcohol (depends on country and platform), prescription drugs and some supplements. If the product is in these categories, return HUMAN_REVIEW instead of an automatic approval.

id: R-009 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Image quality and misleading visuals

Reject images with misleading overlays, fake buttons or UI elements, unreadable or distorted text, warped hands or faces, invented logos, or other brands' watermarks. Product in the image must match the real product.

id: R-010 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Trademarks, copyright and likeness

Reject use of competitor logos and trademarks, celebrity names or faces without permission, copyrighted characters, song lyrics and protected slogans. Do not imitate a living artist by name or reproduce another brand's packaging.

id: R-011 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

AI-generated content labeling

Meta and TikTok ask advertisers and creators to label realistic AI-generated or heavily altered images and video, and the EU AI Act introduces transparency duties for synthetic media. When the image is photorealistic and AI generated, the reviewer adds a reminder to use the platform's AI label. Verify the current rule for each platform before launch.

id: R-012 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Urgency, scarcity and price claims

Urgency ("last hours", "only 3 left") is allowed only if true and tied to a real date or stock. Price offers need the original price, the new price or percentage, and the end date. "Free" must be free. Reject strikethrough prices that were never charged.

id: R-013 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Comparisons with competitors

Comparisons must be objective, verifiable and fair. Do not name or show a competitor's brand without proof. Do not use words such as "better than" or "the only" without a source.

id: R-014 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Minors, sensitive topics and inclusion

Do not target children with pressure or unsafe claims. Avoid politics, religion used for sales pressure, tragedy, stereotypes and body shaming. During Ramadan, avoid content that clashes with the context (for example, food promotion framed as a daytime temptation).

id: R-015 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Risky words and phrases list

Reject or rewrite: guaranteed, 100% effective, miracle, instant results, cure, treat, heal, detox, lose X kg in Y days, risk-free, no side effects, clinically proven (without a study), doctor approved (without proof), number one, best in the world, official (without right), free (when conditions apply), before and after, anti-aging claims, "works for everyone". French equivalents: garanti, miracle, résultat immédiat, guérit, sans effet secondaire, le meilleur du marché. Arabic equivalents are listed below.

مضمون، معجزة، نتائج فورية، يشفي، بدون آثار جانبية، الأفضل في العالم، نتائج مضمونة 100%.

id: R-016 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Tunisia: local legal pointers

Advertising must not be misleading and must respect consumer protection rules (Law no. 92-117 of December 7, 1992 on consumer protection, and later amendments). Prices should be displayed in dinars and offers must state conditions. For regulated sectors (health, pharmaceuticals, financial services, food supplements) route to HUMAN_REVIEW. Legal text must be confirmed with the relevant ministry or a lawyer; this record is a pointer, not legal advice.

id: R-020 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Rubric: criteria and scale

Score each criterion from 1 to 5. Criteria: brand match, factual accuracy against product data, tone, grammar and language quality, regulatory compliance, image and caption consistency, image quality. 5 = excellent, 4 = good, 3 = acceptable with edits, 2 = poor, 1 = unacceptable.

id: R-021 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Rubric: decision rules

Automatic REJECT if factual accuracy or regulatory compliance is 1 or 2. APPROVE if every criterion is 4 or above, or the average is at least 4.0 with none below 3. REVISE if one agent can fix the issue. HUMAN_REVIEW for restricted product categories, legal uncertainty, or after 2 failed retries. Always name the rule violated and the exact fix.

id: R-022 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Reviewer output format

{"decision": "APPROVE|REVISE|REJECT|HUMAN_REVIEW", "scores": {"brand": 0, "accuracy": 0, "tone": 0, "grammar": 0, "compliance": 0, "consistency": 0, "image_quality": 0}, "issues": [{"agent": "content|image", "problem": "", "rule": "R-xxx", "fix": ""}], "retry_target": "content|image|both|none"}

id: R-030 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: guaranteed results (rejected)

Bad: "Lose 5 kg in a week, guaranteed! Our tea works for everyone." Why: unsubstantiated health claim, guarantee, universal result (R-003, R-007, R-015). Fixed: "A daily ritual to fit into your balanced routine. Discover our herbal blends."

id: R-031 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: personal attribute (rejected)

Bad: "Tired of your ugly, oily skin? Fix it today." Why: implies knowledge of the viewer's condition and creates negative self-image (R-006). Fixed: "Meet the lightweight cleanser made for a fresh-feeling day."

id: R-032 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: missing disclosure (revise)

Bad: "Loving my new sneakers from @brand! #style #love #thanks" (gifted or paid). Why: no clear disclosure (R-001, R-002). Fixed: "#ad Loving my new sneakers from @brand! #style".

id: R-033 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: caption and image mismatch (revise)

Bad: image shows a black leather bag; caption says "our new red canvas tote". Why: inconsistent with image and product data. Action: retry_target = content, with product attributes attached.

id: R-034 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: fr

Exemple : fausse urgence (rejeté)

Mauvais : "Plus que 2 pièces en stock !" alors que le stock est de 120. Pourquoi : urgence fausse (R-012). Corrigé : "Collection disponible jusqu'au 30 novembre." (si la date est réelle).

id: R-035 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: invented testimonial (rejected)

Bad: "\"Best purchase of my life!\" said Sarah, 34." when no such review exists. Why: fabricated testimonial (R-004). Fixed: use a real review from the product data, or remove the quote and keep a factual benefit.

id: R-036 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: unsupported comparison (rejected)

Bad: "Better than any other phone case on the market." Why: unverifiable superlative comparison (R-003, R-013). Fixed: "A slim case with a raised edge that protects the screen." (if the product sheet states it).

id: R-037 | collection: compliance | agent: reviewer | platform: all | language: en

Example: image defects (revise)

Bad: generated image shows a mug with garbled letters and six fingers on the hand. Why: image quality failure (R-009). Action: retry_target = image, add negative prompt from V-020 and crop the hand out.

Collection 4: workflow (Manager agent)

Roles, task plans and retry rules the Manager agent retrieves when orchestrating the other agents.

Agent roles

Manager: receives the user input (product image and description, target platform, language, goal), validates it, builds a task plan, dispatches jobs, collects results, and decides on retries. Image agent: generates the post image from the product photo and the plan. Content agent: writes captions, hashtags and CTAs in the requested language. Reviewer agent: validates both outputs against the product data, brand, platform and compliance rules, and returns a structured decision.

id: W-002 | collection: workflow | agent: manager | platform: all | language: en

Standard pipeline

1. Validate input. 2. Retrieve context (brand, product, platform). 3. Create a plan with job briefs. 4. Run the Image agent and the Content agent in parallel. 5. Send both outputs to the Reviewer. 6. If APPROVE, deliver the package (image, caption, hashtags, platform notes). 7. If REVISE, send the issues to the responsible agent only, then re-review. 8. If HUMAN_REVIEW or the retry limit is reached, deliver the best version with a clear warning.

Input validation rules

Required: product image, product description, target platform. Optional: language (default: the description's language), tone, campaign, audience. If the description is under 10 words, ask for more detail or derive attributes from the image and flag them as assumptions. If the image is unreadable, ask for a new one. If the platform is missing, default to Instagram feed and state this.

Task decomposition example: simple launch post

Request: "Instagram post for our new leather wallet, photo attached, in French." Plan: platform = Instagram feed 4:5; goal = awareness; Image: clean product shot on a warm neutral surface with natural light; Content: PAS or AIDA caption in French, 3 to 5 hashtags, CTA "lien en bio"; Review: check material claims against the product sheet and consistency with the image.

Task decomposition example: promotion with deadline

Request: "Black Friday post, 20% off all shoes, TikTok, English." Plan: platform = TikTok 9:16; goal = conversion; Image: bold lifestyle visual with a clean space for text; Content: short hook caption with dates and conditions, 3 to 5 hashtags; Review: verify discount, dates and conditions, and check urgency claims (R-012).

id: W-008 | collection: workflow | agent: manager | platform: all | language: en

Task decomposition example: Arabic seasonal post

Request: "Ramadan post for our date boxes, Instagram, Arabic." Plan: platform = Instagram 4:5; season = Ramadan; Image: warm evening mood with lantern and soft lights; Content: warm family-themed Arabic caption, no aggressive sales language, 3 to 5 Arabic hashtags; Review: native Arabic check, cultural fit, no unverified claims.

Retry policy

Maximum 2 automatic retries per post. On REVISE, re-run only the agent named in retry_target, giving it the exact issues and the fix instructions from the Reviewer. Do not regenerate both outputs unless both fail. If the same rule is violated twice, change strategy (different framework or a different prompt template). After the second failed retry, return HUMAN_REVIEW with the best version and the open issues.

Rejection handling examples

Reviewer: REVISE, rule R-003, caption says "lasts 24 hours" but the product sheet says 12 hours. Manager: send to Content agent: "Replace the duration with 12 hours or remove the claim." Reviewer: REVISE, rule R-009, image shows garbled label text. Manager: send to Image agent: "Regenerate with the original product label unchanged, add negative prompt for garbled text." Reviewer: REJECT, rule R-007, miracle claim. Manager: rewrite the caption using a benefit-led framework without health claims.

Hand-off message format between agents

Each message contains: task_id, from, to, goal, inputs (reference to image, product data), constraints (platform, language, length, forbidden words), retrieved context ids (for example C-010, V-010, R-003), expected output format, and attempt number. Each output returns: task_id, status, content, assumptions made, and any warnings.

id: W-012 | collection: workflow | agent: manager | platform: all | language: en

Final package format

Deliver: final image (with file name and size), caption in the requested language, hashtags, CTA, suggested posting time if known, platform notes (AI label reminder, link in bio), Reviewer decision with scores, and a list of assumptions or warnings. If translations are requested, run the Content agent again per language and review each one.

id: W-013 | collection: workflow | agent: manager | platform: all | language: en

Escalation and failure cases

Escalate to a human when: the product is in a restricted category, the user asks for claims that cannot be verified, the Reviewer and the agents disagree twice, the language quality cannot be checked, or a tool fails twice. Never hide a failure; return a clear status and the reason. If one agent fails and the other succeeds, deliver the partial result and say what is missing.
